Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The most important problem to be solved in the world today — survival — was the core of a brilliant and illuminating international discussion Tuesday night on CBS' "Town Meeting of the World." The importance of international agreement on control of nuclear weapons was argued back and forth, sometimes in the broadest terms, sometimes more specifically.

Eric Sevareid moderated the four-way discussion carried by the Early Bird satellite from European capitals and Washington. Gen. Pierre Gallois in Paris represented the French viewpoint, Franz Josef Strauss, former West German defense minister, talked from Munich. Lord Chalfont, the British delegate to the Geneva disarmament talks, was in Switzerland, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was in Washington.

Kennedy spoke of the urgency of reaching some sort of agreement, suggesting that in five or 10 years nuclear proliferation among many nations, large, small, stable and unstable, might make control efforts futile. Lord Chalfont agreed.

But Gen. Gallois repeatedly asserted that the development of any nation's nuclear capability was entirely the concern of that nation. Strauss, a citizen of a nation without nuclear capability, seemed most concerned about protection of the non-nuclear countries by the more powerful ones and worried about controls and inspections.

There did seem to be agreement between the British and American spokesmen but the discussion occasionally became so heated that several men were talking at the same time and interrupting each other. It all underlined the complexity of reaching international accord even when, as a Kennedy reiterated, the future of mankind and the planet itself is involved.

It would have been even more interesting had it been possible to include a Russian in the discussion — but France's Gen. Gallois was discouraging enough.

When an actuality program like this lights up the late evening channels, the rest of television's usual evening entertainment output seems more second-rate than ever. It was a long and pretty silly trail, no matter what channel one chose, that carried the viewer from dinner to that sober town meeting.

There was the mischievous chimpanzee of "Daktari" who stole the bad guys' sack of stolen diamonds, but a right-thinking cross-eyed lion brought it back just in time to save the good guys' lives. And there was Zsa Zsa Gabor playing a blonde thieving Gypsy fortune teller in the old wild west trying to con the "F Troop" cavalry men out of their pay.

The Golden Age Club met Thursday, March 3 at the Youth Center for a covered dish luncheon and farewell get together for Mr. Mart Yocum who is leaving soon for his new home in New Orleans, La.

The meeting was called to order by the President, Bro. G. W. Hooten and prayer was voiced by Bro. B. J. Wilhite, pastor of the Assembly of God Church. At the request of Mart Yocum the song, "There's a Bright Day Coming," was sung by the group and Bro. Wilhite brought the devotional on "Heaven, or That Bright Day We are All Looking Forward To."

Eleven members and one new member answered roll call and three visitors were present. Next meeting will be March 17.

The condition of your spine is the blueprint of your individual state of health. From the spinal column nerves spread out to every organ and tissue of the body. These nerves are the streets that all the life of function travel. If the street to gall bladder function happens to be closed there will certainly be no function and gall bladder trouble will be present. Now these any street from the spine to any organ or tissue and it can easily be seen how disfunction of this organ or tissue will be present. We then have disease, regardless of its name. HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

So Honorable It Hurts
Dear Helen: About three years ago my wife and I were divorced for reasons that resulted in my having our three children. I thank God for this, as I love them very much.

Two years ago something happened that I am very ashamed of, not that I did anything wrong but because I allowed myself to get into this situation.

I work with a woman who was at that time having troubles with her husband. I helped her straighten them out, and they were getting along fine until he turned around and started chasing again. I tried to help her again, but then I realized I was falling in love with her, so I stayed away from her as much as possible, and I know she felt hurt about it. Then we both had to work overtime, and as we were leaving I bumped into her in the hall and before I knew it I had kissed her. She got angry. So I avoided her more than ever.

Then one night she asked me to follow her in my car. We stopped on a side road and she told me she loved me.

But I still avoid her, because I realize how wrong it is to get involved with a married woman even though she hasn't got a real marriage. I just walk by her and I get all shook up. Only one thing in life I want and that is to make her my wife. Have you any advice other than to quit my job, which I can't with the trade I'm in? — Mixed Up and In Love

Dear Mixed Up: This woman has spent three unsuccessful years trying to straighten out a chaser. If she prefers to remain his wife, well, you've avoided complications two years, and it will be less difficult as time goes on. This especially if you get back to office friendship and stop with the big renunciation act.

If she doesn't prefer to remain his wife, she evidently has plenty of grounds of divorce — and then you can come out of your corner. It's nice meeting a man who won't play the "other man." Makes me realize there is still honor mixed in with the water-cooler intrigue I keep hearing about. — H.

Dear Helen: Is Batman a bad joke, a bad dream, or a press agent's nightmare? — Can't Believe It!

Dear Can't: Batman is old-fashioned space-age "meller-drammer," and press agents had a lot to do with its success, but not everything. After all "The Drunkard" and "Little Nell" still pack 'em in wherever they play. — H.

(P. S. After watching her folk shudder through the first performance, our daughter Kathy made up this poem:

But the squares are not amused when they see that Batman's used — Pri-time Time!

Captives Don't Like Black Rifle

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A North Vietnamese regular captured by the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division shuddered and said, "Don't like that black rifle."

He was speaking of the M16 rifle, a deadly new weapon that looks like something out of science fiction with its black plastic stock and forearm, sub-machinegun-like pistol grip and dull finish. It is just one of the light weapons with which the more than 200,000 Americans here fight the Reds.

The M16 is 243-caliber, which, perhaps fittingly, makes it what shooters in the United States call "a varmint rifle."

It has a 20-round magazine. Soldiers generally tape two ends to end so they can reload with the flick of a wrist. The weapon can fire 700 rounds per minute.

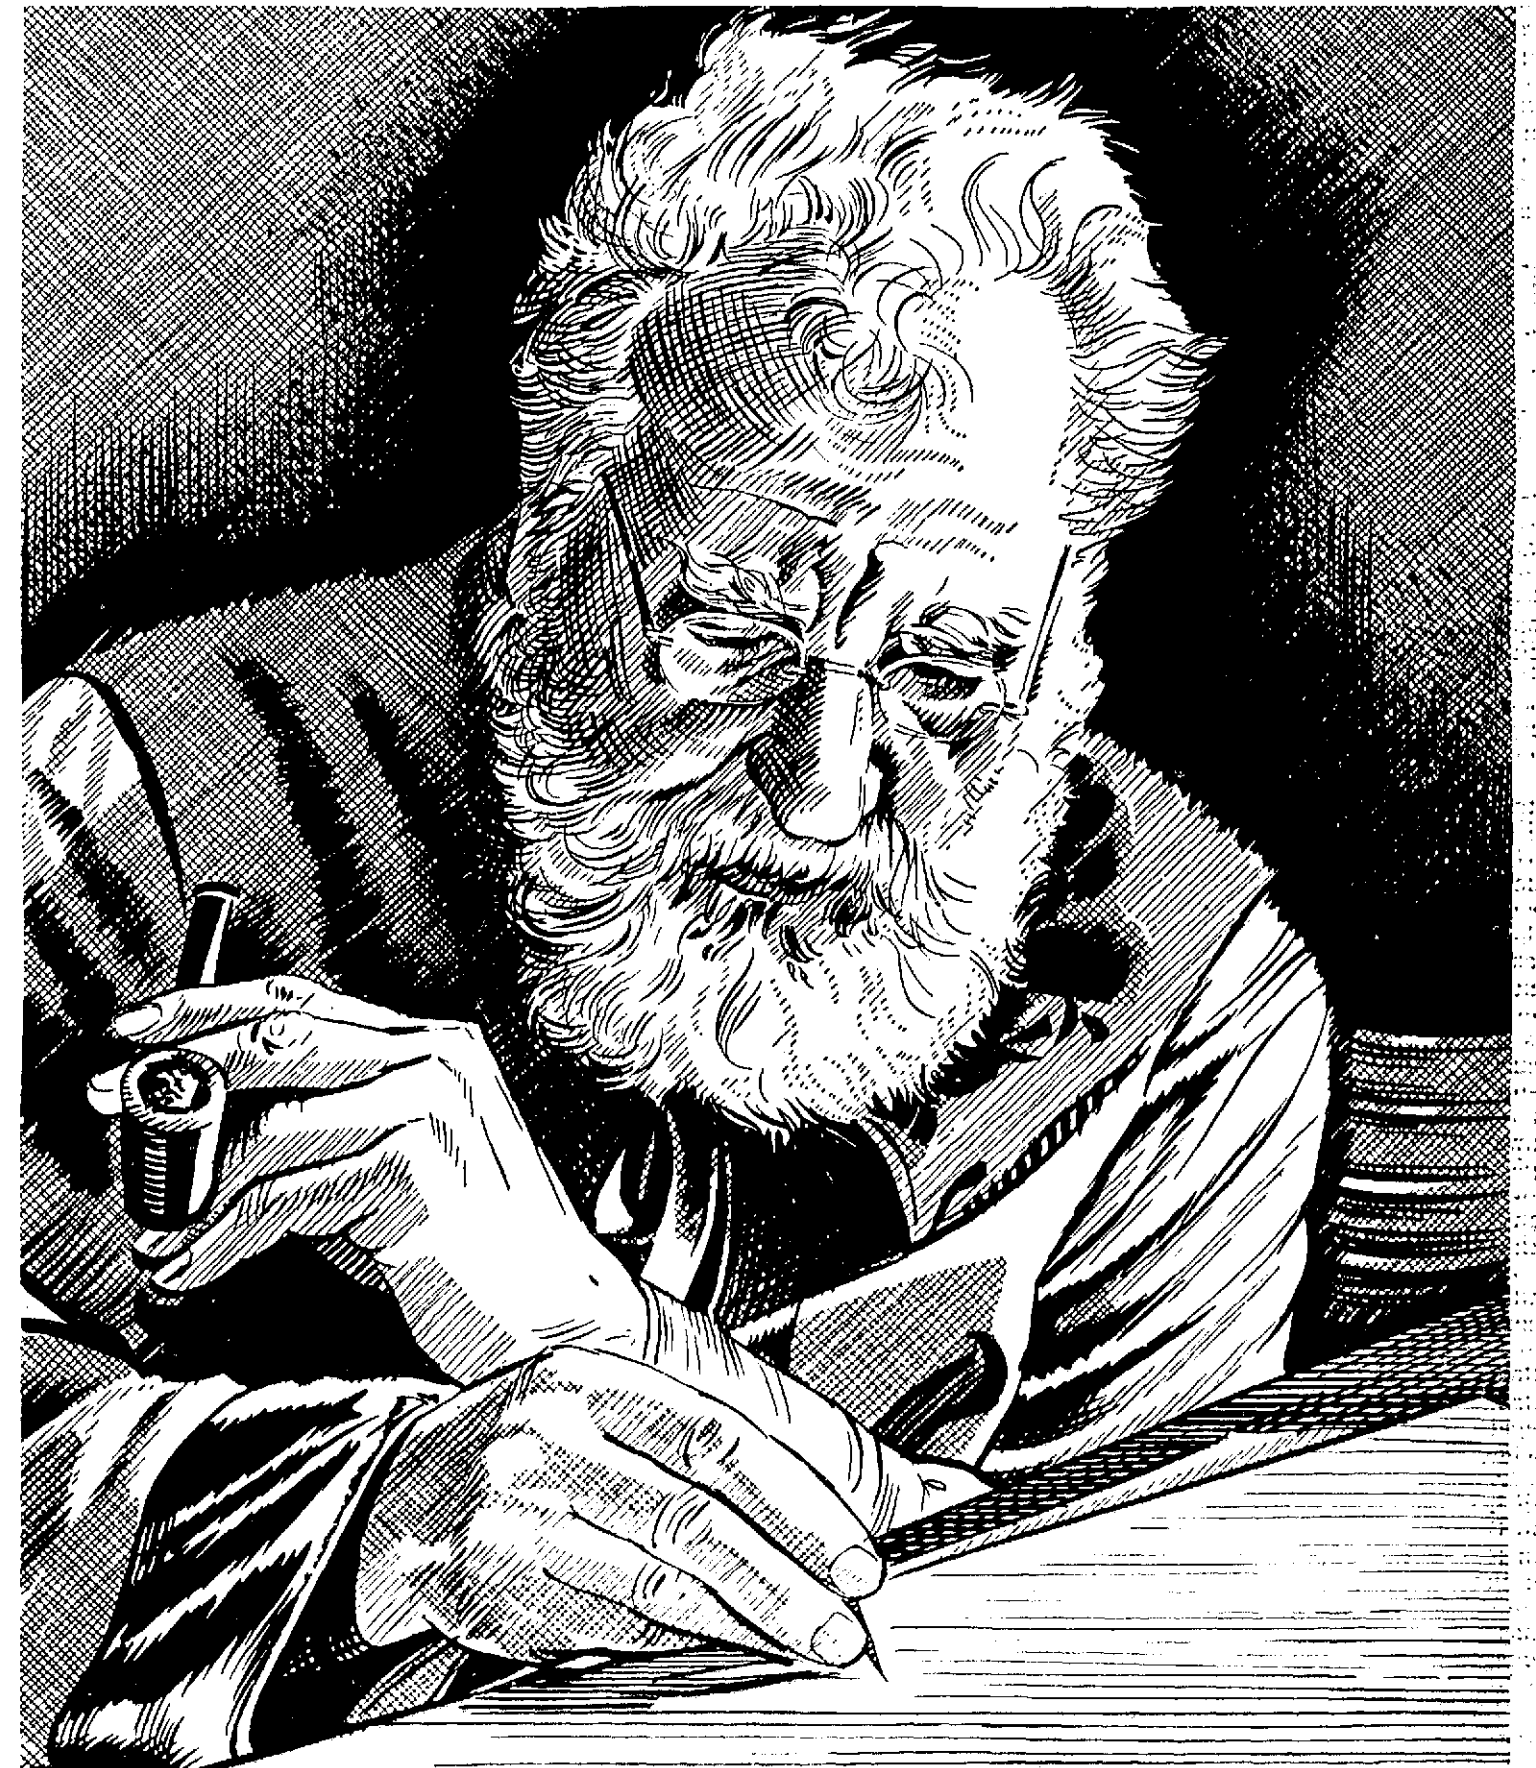

Despite complaints, the cavalrymen generally like the M16. It is light and on full automatic it can be deadly against enemy snipers in palm trees.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better...

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society, developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax discs and pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes from them. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 40 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too. Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone, Home Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data-Phone data communications service or Panel Phone. ## SMU Has SWC Basketball Title Thanks to Razorbacks

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Methodist won the Southwest Conference title and a berth in next week's NCAA college basketball championship tourney thanks to the Arkansas Razorbacks and their veteran coach, Glen Rose, in a story-book sequence of events.

This is how it happened on a Thursday night that also saw the idle Utah Redskins gain the Western Athletic Conference crown and its automatic NCAA berth when New Mexico whipped Arizona.

Rose, a star player for Arkansas in the late 1920s and coach of the Razorbacks for 33 years, was reported to have told his squad before the game with Texas A&M at Fayetteville, Ark., that he planned to retire.

The underdog fourth-place Porkers, seeking a big win for Rose in their final game of the season, then went out and routed the Aggies 94-71. Texas A&M went into the game tied for first with Southern Methodist and a Monday playoff site at Waco already had been selected.

Switch now to Dallas where SMU was playing a home game against Texas Tech. Midway of the second half the Red Raiders led SMU 69-57 when word was received of Arkansas' surprise defeat of Texas A&M.

After the score was announced over the loud speaker system the aroused Mustangs reeled off seven straight points to take the lead for good thus wrapping up the SWC title and NCAA spot with a 99-89 triumph. It was SMU's 10th straight victory.

Utah backed into the WAC title when the New Mexico Lobos, playing at home, snapped a five-game losing streak by tripping Arizona 83-69. The Lobos broke away from a 33-33 half-time tie by Mel Daniels, re-covered from a cut arm, and Ben Monroe. Each scored 26 points.

The goings-on in the SWC and WAC overshadowed Duke's rout of Wake Forest in the first round of the Atlantic Coast Conference championship tourney at Raleigh.

The Blue Devils, third-ranked in The Associated Press poll, scored a 103-73 romp over the Deacons who had upset them by one point in overtime last week.

Bob Verga's 29 points paced the Blue Devils who meet North Carolina in the semifinals tonight. North Carolina downed Maryland 77-70. South Carolina beat Clemson 60-52 and N.C. State whipped Virginia 86-77 in the other ACC first round games. South Carolina and N.C. State meet in the other semi tonight.

Cincinnati, the Missouri Valley Conference champion and No. 10 in the AP poll, closed out its regular season at 21-5 by beating its cross-town rival, Xavier of Ohio, 67-62.

Brigham Young, 16-5, and Louisville, 16-9, accepted bids to play in the National Invitation Tournament in New York while touring Wichita handed North Texas its 19th straight defeat 112-79.

In other games involving NCAA-bound teams, Western Kentucky, 23-2, whipped Austin Peay 76-63 and Oklahoma City, 24-4, crushed Centenary 121-90. Rothe were home court triumphs

Balance Was Secret of Porker Win

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas bounced Texas A&M out of a share of the Southwest Conference basketball title, posting a convincing 94-71 victory here Thursday night.

Southern Methodist won the title by beating Texas Tech 99-89.

Arkansas used its balance to pull away after taking a 21-19 lead with 8:26 left in the first half.

Aggie John Beasley put on a one-man show scoring 40 points while his teammates could muster no more than 5 field goals among them.

Tommy Roland's jump shot gave Arkansas the go-ahead points and he flashed another 10 points on the scoreboard in the last two minutes and 40 seconds of the first half.

Arkansas led 43-33 at the intermission.

Bobcats Romp Over Camden to 113-62 Tune

By LARRY DON WRIGHT
Hope Star Sportswriter

The Bobcats romped over the hapless Camden Panthers by the astounding score of 113-62 last night in Jones Field House to close out both conference and regular season play in fitting fashion before their State Tournament match next Tuesday.

Although evidently there are no record books kept it is certain that a few schools records were broken in the game and perhaps a district mark.

One can't be sure which records were broken but there are so many possibilities that surely one of them was unprecedented.

It is rumored that the Bobcats' 113 points was a new school record and it is strongly felt that it may be since no one can seem to remember the last time Hope broke the 100-point barrier.

Another outstanding possibility is in individual scoring. Ronnie Ingram, 5-foot-9 senior guard gunned in 39 points. It was a new personal high and easily the most which has been scored by a Bobcat in a single game this season and also in many years.

To top it off teammate Dennis Ramsey poured in 30 points. It also was a new personal career record for Ramsey. And the fact that two players from the same team broke the 30-point mark for scoring in a single game sounds like record breaking material itself.

There was also one other goal surpassed during the contest. It marked the first time one of Coach Billy Mitchell's teams has busted the 100-point target.

There isn't much to say about the game itself other than it was an obvious runaway. Hope pulled the fast break so many times that it quickly became a variety for the Cats to set up in an offense.

Things became easier and easier as the game wore on and the Camden defense wore out.

The first half of play was highlighted by the heroics of Bobcat postman Larry May. May was experiencing his finest game of the season and was certainly the hottest player on either of the teams. Midway through the second quarter he was setting the scoring pace way ahead of the other Cats with 12 points and was apparently headed for a new scoring high of his own.

But at that point in the game May was ordered out for good on a technical foul ruling after a misunderstanding under the boards.

The Bobcats really picked up the pace that second quarter after scoring 23 points in the first. They came thundering back with an even 30 points in the second period.

Hope was out front at half-time 53-29. That's when Bobcat fans first noticed that their team was on the 100-point pace. And there was some holering and noise in Jones Field House that second half.

With 2 minutes and 44 seconds left in the game Ingram drove behind the Panther defense from the corner for a lay up that pushed Hope's total to 101. It was a beautiful maneuver as a beautiful sight to see that score board clock click over from 99 back to 1. The board can only accommodate two digits for each team but every one knew what the actual score was.

The Hope stands were going wild with delirious delight, which didn't let up until a good while after the game had ended.

Another note worthy point is that Ingram sacked up 20 points in the fourth quarter alone.

He and Ramsey were followed by McGill who had 17, and May who had 12. Others scoring for the Cats were Stan Parris with 7, Eddie Aslin with 6, David Griffin with 2 and Stan Reyenga with 2.

The Cats will play in the AA State Tourney next Tuesday in Little Rock. The time and opponent will be publicized later.

Clay-Terrell Fight Hits Another Snag

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTREAL (AP) — The beleaguered Cassius Clay-Ernie Terrell fight, kicked out of United States, has lost the large Montreal Forum as a site and may wind up today in Verdun — a Montreal suburb — if it ever lands any place at all.

In the midst of a stormy meeting Thursday night between members of the Montreal Athletic Commission and the would-be promoters, a member of the commission said an official of the 15,000-seat Montreal Forum, had rejected the controversial fight.

"We'll take it to Verdun," said Robert Arum, a New York lawyer and an officer of Main Bout Inc., of New York who owns the closed circuit television and other ancillary rights of the projected March 29 heavyweight title bout.

He said the fight could be staged in the 5,500-seat Verdun Auditorium in the Montreal suburb. He hoped to arrange that in conferences today, with Mayor George O'Reilly.

The commission member, Paul Emile Sauvageau, told reporters at City Hall, the meeting place, that Frank Selke Jr., an official of the Canadian Arena Co., which owns the Forum, telephoned the commission to announce that the arena would not be available for the bout.

Reached at his home, Selke declined to confirm or deny the statement. He said nothing further would have come from the commission.

The commission at a 200 word statement at the end of the meeting said it is interested in having the fight but not MBI and promoter Loren Lasker at All Canada Sport 124, would have to comply with the conditions before the fight can be permitted to study a proposal for a permit.

Conditions were set for everything must be in writing, including all contracts, a telephone radio deal, the fighters' contracts with their managers and the promoter's agreement with the fighters.

One of the conditions the promoter must meet is to provide the fighters with a guarantee of 25 percent of all receipts, including closed TV and pay-per-view and gate receipts, on a $1 million over all project, this could come to $200,000.

The conditions stipulate that a $100,000 bond must be posted to guarantee the payment of the permit fee, namely five per cent of the live gate receipts and the radio and television rights.

Arum said it would take until Monday to get everything in black and white.

Before the Thursday night announcement, Selke had said that the Forum would be available to the fight because he had planned to show the closed circuit TV on March 29.

Verdun, outside of the Montreal commission's jurisdiction, doesn't have a boxing commission or a five per cent levy.

There was a strong belief here that some members of the Montreal Council were not enthusiastic about taking a fight had been rejected by New York and Chicago.

Dodgers May Be Champs Less Hurlers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "World championship baseball without hitters," had "em rolling in the aisles last year."

It was Buzzie Bavasi's favorite subject. Everyone laughed until Bavasi's hitless wonders won the World Series.

This year the Los Angeles Dodgers general manager has a new topic: "First division ball without pitchers."

No one seems to want to laugh at that, at least of all Bavasi.

"We don't want to have to do without them," he explained Thursday. "And no one ever said we wanted to get along without them, but I believe we still could finish in the first division if we don't manage to get together."

Bavasi has always prided himself on being the pitcher's friend. But now he finds himself playing the role of villain against the Dodgers' two star hurlers, shutout southpaw king Sandy Koufax and right-hander Don Drysdale.

The pair disappeared from sight shortly before the Dodgers moved their operations to Florida for the warm-up season.

Bavasi steadfastly has refused to ante up the ransom, a cool $1 million package spread out over three years for both stars.

There's no question about how valuable Koufax and Drysdale are. Without them we're just another club, but still good enough I think to finish in the first division."

struggles with Camden's No. 24 for the ball. Hope players looking on are Stan Parris 24 and Ronnie Ingram 12. Behind Ingram is Dennis Ramsey.

Is Bavasi expecting the duo to appear any day now at camp?

"That's where you're wrong," he assured a writer. "We are going along on the theory that they will not be here."

At last report, Bavasi had offered Sandy a one-year contract of $125,000 — more than ever has been paid a pitcher. For Drysdale, the offers stopped at $100,000. Bavasi vowed that the three-year angle was not even a proper topic for discussion and would be unfair, if granted, to his other stars who have already reported to camp under a one-year lease.

Gurdon was trailing Gurdon at the end of the first period, 14-15. They played a tight game all through that period.

Starting in the top of the second period Gurdon's tall John Smith helped them get a five point lead. He was up for the rebounds and contributed six points.

Stuart and Smith made the only points for Yerger in that period, 8. And Gurdon led 27-22 at the half.

Gurdon continued to lead 31-26 with six minutes left in the 3rd period. They stretched their lead to nine points. Yerger had its third period stretch of coldness and Gurdon pulled away 52-29.

Gurdon's Hawthorne paying with 4 fouls was beginning to knock the bottom out of the basket. Yerger was fouling and Gurdon took advantage of this. They hit eight of their points from the free throw line which gave them a 74-41 win over Yerger.

High scorers were: Yerger — Stuart, 12; Gurdon — Hawthorne with 15.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Worries About Bust Size Are Usually Misplaced

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—I am 16 and small-busted. If anything can be done about this, I hope it can be done now, before I'm too old.

A—I get many letters complaining about the size of the breasts. Whether they are too large or too small, 99 per cent are actually within the normal range and would not be considered unusual by anyone except the possessor.

Some girls are slow starters and at 16 do not yet have their full breast development, so I would advise you not to panic, especially since little can be done about it except plastic surgery and that is often unsatisfactory. Techniques and materials for this purpose are being improved but are still far from ideal.

It has been truly said that enlarging the breasts is not a bona fide one-way ticket to social success. Your best course is to work on developing a radiant personality and forget about your alleged handicap. After all, none of us is perfect.

Q—I am a widow, 53. Five years ago my left breast was removed, followed by X-ray treatments. Ever since then my left arm has been swollen and tender. What can be done to make it more comfortable?

A—Your arm has enlarged because, in removing the breast, the lymphatic vessels draining your arm were also removed. Normal drainage is usually re-established after four or five months but may take longer. Make sure your sleeves are loose at all times and avoid wearing rings or bracelets on your left side.

Keeping your left arm elevated as much of the time as possible and moving your fingers and wrists vigorously several times a day will aid in establishing normal drainage.

Sit beside your dressing table at night, elevate your elbow on a few books, then, keeping your head erect, brush and comb your hair with your left arm. Start slowly and increase the exercises a little each day. Gradually use fewer books for support.

These and other exercises have helped many others like you and are described in "Help Yourself to Recovery," which you can get by writing to the American Cancer Society (521 West 57th St., New York, N.Y. 10019) or to the local branch in your city.

Q—I have a skin condition that my doctor says is mycosis fungoides. Is it serious? Is there any cure for it?

A—This is a slowly evolving malignant skin disease that is characterized by multiple tumors of widely varied appearance. The cause is unknown. Early treatment with X-ray will sometimes cure it. A recent report states that a radioactive sulfa drug taken by mouth will control this disease.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

They Really Meant Freeze That Time

MAYVILLE, N.D. (AP) — When they say "freeze" in North Dakota from now on, they'll be thinking of Tuesday night's Hillsboro-Mayville high school district tournament basketball game.

Mayville sank a field goal with four seconds remaining to tie the score 5-5. Hillsboro won 7-5 on two foul shots with one second remaining in the second overtime. Mayville had the ball for all but four seconds of the second half.

Although we recognize the shortsightedness of isolation we do not embrace the equally futile prospect of total and endless dependence. The United States can never do more than supplement the efforts of the developing countries themselves.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Today's hand is identical to yesterday's with the exception of two cards. We have transposed the six and seven of hearts in the East and the South hands.

In yesterday's hand the play started with East's queen of spades being allowed to hold the first trick. East returned the nine of spades to his partner's ace and on the third spade lead East discards the ace of diamonds and thereby sets declarer at three no-trump.

With the change of those two cards it is possible for South to make three no-trump in spite of that sensational discard. The play is not one that would ever be made in a regular bridge game but anything goes in bridge problems.

If you haven't figured out the winning line of play, here it is: South wins the third spade lead and plays a club to dummy's jack. Then he leads dummy's ten of hearts and East must cover. Now South takes two more club tricks, winding up in dummy and West is forced to discard.

If West tosses a spade, South can afford to let him in with the jack of diamonds because West will only be able to take one spade trick. So West can't afford to let a spade go. Of course, West can't discard a diamond. That play will make all South's diamonds good and he will actually make four no-trump so unhappy West must discard the five of hearts.

This allows South to lead the nine of hearts from dummy. If East ducks the nine holds the trick. If East covers, South puts on whichever high heart he still holds. This drops West's eight and South makes his ninth trick with that seven of hearts that we transferred to his hand today.

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner knows that you doubled five clubs and will double six himself unless he thinks that he can make six hearts. If he has no clubs there is a good chance that he can.

LBJ Fails to Detail Case to Nation

WASHINGTON (AP) — While his critics and supporters on Viet Nam scuffle on the beach of public opinion, President Johnson has avoided making a detailed explanation of his case to the nation in a way that would give him the widest public audience and greatly help public understanding.

Doing it would be simple enough: If the White House announced well in advance that the President was going to make such an explanation to the nation at night it would be televised and broadcast, undoubtedly by all the networks, and thus get him maximum audience and attention.

For some reason not clear he has not done so, although he has sought to express his views publicly in other but less effective ways.

Last week, for instance, he made a major address in New York on Viet Nam but the nation was not informed well enough in advance to be looking for it. The result: only one major television network carried it at 9:30 p.m. Other networks carried a rerun after their 11 p.m. newscasts but by then a lot of people who might have listened earlier were in bed.

Last Saturday he held a news conference, in which he discussed Viet Nam at length, but insisted beforehand that it not be televised at all.

Previously he had held a rather impromptu news conference with reporters at the White House but there was practically no advance notice on this. And when he decided to go to Honolulu to meet with the South Vietnamese leaders, the whole thing was announced suddenly, again losing maximum attention.

On the other hand the public, by way of television, has been exposed for hours to testimony, for and against Johnson's Vietnamese policy, before the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee whose chairman, Sen. J. W. Fulbright, Arkansas Democrat, is one of the most important and persistent critics of Johnson's Southeast Asia policy.

At these hearings Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor — former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, former ambassador to South Viet Nam, and adviser to Presidents Johnson and John F. Kennedy — did a brilliant job of stating the administration's case.

But it is doubtful the general public, watching them testify, got the full impact of what they said or could retain the logic or continuity of it because they were constantly interrupted by critical committee members who injected their contradictory views.

As a result of these interruptions anyone not an expert on Viet Nam was bound to get a mixed and perhaps even foggy view of the administration's position. What the nonexpert got was a jumble of views.

Johnson also has relied on Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and some of his top aides to explain his administration's position.

But no one could state his case so well, or to so many Americans, or without distracting interruptions as Johnson himself if he went on national television at night, with plenty of advance notice that he was going to.

No president in this century has been so adept in handling Congress as Johnson and it is possible he wants to avoid as much as he can antagonizing any more men in the Capitol than now oppose or criticize his policies.

Braves' Tug of War to Continue

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — The tug-of-war over former Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick was expected to continue today with both sides in Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball trying to get his bat in their lineup.

Frick wasn't in court as the battle began Thursday with the prosecution and the defense reading portions of a sworn statement taken from him earlier, each using some of his statement to back up their contentions.

The state tried to link up Frick's testimony and what it called the "monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game." The defense tried to show that expansion was not feasible at present and that baseball had made no agreement to abandon or boycott Milwaukee.

The issues are the keys to the suit in which Wisconsin charges that baseball violated state antitrust statutes by moving the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta without giving the city another team.

Before the battery of legal experts began to fight over Frick, a tax accountant testified that the Braves produced more than $9 million for the Perini family in the 10 seasons they operated the club in Milwaukee. The accountant, Harry J.

Miller, said state tax returns of the Perini Corp. from 1953 to Nov. 25, 1962 — when the franchise was sold — showed net income of the ball club before taxes to be $8,667,314. Miller also said the Perini family was paid $415,302 in total salaries.

Then the prosecution started to enter Frick's deposition. But they were greeted by a flurry of objections from the defense, questioning the relevancy of the testimony.

Steven Keane, special counsel for Milwaukee County, argued the matter was relevant because the state intended, through Frick, to "identify the rules and regulations that contain the monopolistic ability of baseball to control the game."

"This will show how baseball can do what we charge they can,"

Circuit Judge Elmer Roller ruled the reading of the deposition could continue.

In his reading, Keane touched on three key points to the state's case — the question of how to secure a franchise, Frick's opinion on expansion and the reserve clause.

Then the defense took over, reading other portions of the deposition.

Questioned about his advocacy of two 12-team leagues, Frick said the target date of 1964 he had set could not be met because it became "our experience that it would take longer." Frick pointed out that expansion was "impractical" if done hurriedly.

Frick also said he thought his expansion policy had proved successful since in "the last 10 years we accomplished more than in the previous 75" and noted that in expanding from eight to 10-club leagues baseball "went into towns that didn't have baseball."

The defense moved on to read the actual cross-examination of Frick at the time the deposition was taken.

In that Frick was asked if he knew of any agreement made by baseball to abandon Milwaukee or boycott the city as a site.

"No," was Frick's only reply. At that point time ran out, and Judge Roller called the game until morning.

Rector Ousts Bay, Former State Champs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Class A and Class B state high school basketball tournaments are down to four teams each, with one defending champion still very much in the running.

Rector eliminated defending champion Bay 68-51 Thursday night, in a quarterfinal match of last year's finalists. Greenbrier, defending B champion, beat Calico Rock 63-45 to advance to the semifinals.

In other A quarterfinal games Thursday and Thursday night, White Hall continued its strong showing with a 79-50 lacing of Hamburg and Fort Smith St. Anne's ousted Oak Grove of North Little Rock 46-44.

Oil Trough ran over Vann-dale 84-40 and Lead Hill stopped Marmaduke 81-64 in Class B quarterfinals.

Semifinals pit Greenbrier against Altheimer. Lead Hill against Oil Trough, White Hall against Lavaca and St. Anne's against Rector.

In the only close match of the day, St. Anne's took over late in the third period and led till the end, seeing Oak Grove throw away the ball in the closing seconds, ending a threat to tie the score.

Oak Grove's Joe Pace led scoring with 19 points, while St. Anne's top scorer came from Greg Davis with 17 and John Gross with 16.

White Hall's Robert McKenzie chucked in 29 points in leading his 35-2 team past Hamburg. White Hall took the first lead and it stayed that way throughout the game.

Rector took its lead at 8 - 6 and Bay could never catch up. The defending champions trailed 17-37 at the half. Allen Pruett had 29 points for the winners and Melvin McMasters scored 17 for Bay.

Lead Hill used a torrid fourth quarter attack—35 points—to eliminate Marmaduke. Eddie Rogers paced the Class B semifinals with 33 points, and Mike Cudd had 17 for Marmaduke.

Oil Trough led Vann-dale 51-16 by halftime and was never in trouble. Billy Ballard scored 22 points for the winners.

Greenbrier had little trouble, too, in advancing in its bid for a second straight Class B state title. Dwayne Nash scored 18 points for Greenbrier, teammate Tommy Watson added 16 and Calico Rock's Clifton Woods scored 20 points.

Bobby Hull Has Monkey Off His Back

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Bobby Hull, the Chicago Black Hawks' Golden Jet, has the monkey off his back and is now ready to lead his teammates to the National Hockey League championship.

Hull whipped home his 50th goal of the season Wednesday night to help lead the Hawks to a 5-4 victory over Detroit and give Chicago sole possession of first place in the NHL as Montreal settled for a 3-3 tie with Toronto.

Hull's record-tying goal came at 5:15 of the final period and gave the Hawks a 4-2 lead but Chicago had to battle off a 4-4 tie to win it on a goal by Kenny Wharram with less than six minutes to play.

The victory enabled the Hawks to take the lead in the NHL by one point over Montreal which has a game tonight against Toronto.

Hull, 27, is in his ninth season of NHL play but already has become the first man to reach the 50-goal plateau twice and, with 13 games to play, is a cinch to not only break the record but also put it beyond immediate reach.

"He'll score at least 58 goals before the season is over," said Hawk Coach Billy Reay.

"I don't know how many I'll score," said Hull, "but I hope each and every one of them help this club reach the goal which is the championship."

Aside from his goal, Hull also picked up a pair of assists to give him 87 points for the season, nine short of matching the record of 96 set by Montreal's Dickie Moore in 1950.

Chicago's next game is at Toronto Saturday and the Hawks return home Sunday to meet Montreal in what could be a make or break contest.

As things would have it, Hull put in a stretch of five minutes and 28 seconds without relief in the first period against Detroit.

It wasn't by design but because of penalties and Bobby failed to produce. He finished out the game with a total of 24 minutes and 29 seconds during which time he had seven shots on goal, eight misses and five deflections.

"I wouldn't say I shot too much," said Hull "but I'll admit I have taken better shots. Let's just say getting that 50th goal took the monkey off my back. Now, my linemates, and everyone on the team will be able to concentrate on winning hockey games."

books.

"Sure, when I saw the puck go in there was a lot of pressure off," said Hull. "I'm only sorry I couldn't get 51 before a home crowd."

When Hull scored his 50th goal in the third period against Detroit, the home crowd went wild and play was halted for at least five minutes.

Bobby picked up a top hat tossed onto the ice and presented it to his wife, Jo Ann, along with the puck.

Hull wasn't the only NHL star to score a milestone goal Wednesday night. Montreal's great Jean Beliveau moved into third place on the all-time goal-scoring list with his 380th career goal in the Canadiens' tie with Toronto. New York whipped Boston 5-3 in Wednesday's other game.

Baseball's Antitrust Suit in Third Phase

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Wisconsin was expected to begin prosecuting its antitrust suit against baseball today as the trial moved into phase No. 3 following a rapid series of developments that brought the case sharply into focus.

The state planned to begin introducing testimony and questioning witnesses in an attempt to prove that baseball violated Wisconsin's antitrust statutes by moving the Braves from Milwaukee to Atlanta.

It was not known what witnesses might be called but it was learned that Bill Veeck, a former secretary-treasurer of the Braves, has been subpoenaed to testify.

The way was cleared Tuesday for the trial to proceed when legal fencing over 188 documents to be presented in evidence finally ended.

There, before a packed room of 150 onlookers, the 17 legal experts and a jury box filled with reporters, the opposing attorneys made their opening remarks and clearly defined the issues in the case.

Earl Jinkinson, attorney for the Braves, said Wisconsin's suit could "lead to the utter destruction and ruin" of the sport and "could do the death knell of baseball."

Jinkinson said the "court cannot effectively order them (the Braves) back to Milwaukee," questioned the jurisdiction of the court in the case and said the move of the Braves was authorized by the National League because of poor fan support, financial losses and a hostile press.

Willard Stafford, special counsel for the state, countered in his opening statement that the Braves were moved because "some young men borrowed too much money and had to make money in a hurry to stay in baseball."

He said he was asking Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller to order the Braves returned to Milwaukee, "screaming or otherwise," unless or until the National League assigns a new franchise to the city.

Stafford also said he would ask the court to find that the antitrust laws have been violated by the National League and its 10 members, and that forfeitures be ordered against the defendants.

More on Martins Only Inflation Cure Is: Stop It

Received a couple of telephone calls yesterday about the arrival of additional purple martins on their Spring migration from South America. Woodrow Baker reported his birds came in Thursday, and he added this cheerful note: "In past years I recall your martins usually arrive a couple of days after mine — so yours ought to be along at any moment." No dice. It's already been a couple of days, and I still have 36 vacant apartments.

Another caller was Jerry O'Neal of Southland Heights, whose birds also arrived on Thursday.

"It's certainly the season for martins — this being a typical March day, chill and windy."

An investment house, Channing Co., Inc., plugging for the purchase of common stocks as a hedge against inflation, sends out this bulletin to its customers:

"In 1965, your dollar lost another cent in purchasing power. Project this rate into the next decade and it can make inroads on the future value of your dollars. The real value of the dollar is only what it can be exchanged for in goods and services, and this value has, with few interruptions, declined substantially. Your 1940 dollar would be worth 44c today, your 1950 dollar only 75c!"

"This is inflation, and it has been with the economy since the beginning of recorded time. With its relentlessly rising price levels, its real victims are those people planning retirement incomes or making long-range goals for the use of their capital. They must seek ways to make their assets rise in value at least as rapidly as the cost of living rises."

"In inflation, fixed dollar investments (savings accounts, life insurance) providing a guaranteed number of dollars, decrease in value, while variable dollar investments (common stocks) tend to keep pace with rising living costs."

All this is true, as pertaining to the lecture on inflation. Stocks do rise as the cost of living goes up — but so does real estate, and somewhat more dependably than stocks since its success depends upon the owners rather than hired managers.

But the true picture of a sound investment portfolio is a mixture — some stocks and some real estate, to protect your capital against being eroded by inflation; and the larger part invested in bonds, preferred stocks and savings, which give you assurance of some cash to live on in the event common stocks quit paying dividends and real estate suddenly becomes unsalable — both of which happened after the crash of 1929.

Yet any talk about protecting yourself against inflation is really little more than hog-wash. It's worth just about as much as a quack talking about a cure for cancer.

The only sure way to handle inflation is to stop it. Make the politicians quit spending more than they collect in taxes — and begin repaying the borrowed money they have squandered since the fighting ended in World War II.

In normal times the dollar is a measuring stick with which to value commodities.

But under inflation it is commodities that start measuring the dollar.

And if you love your dollar you had better think hard and vote tough every time a free-spending politician comes along to shake hands. If he's without gloves tell him to put 'em on — boxing gloves, that is.

Space Goal Is Protection

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — The U.S. goal in space is to insure that no other nation gains a military superiority there, says the director of the Apollo program, Maj. Gen. Samuel C. Phillips. The United States "must have the ability to deal with a nation which certainly will exploit space to military advantage. This is a point on which we cannot be caught short," he told a space conference here.

Few Survivors as Canadian Airliner Falls

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

TOKYO (AP) — A Canadian Pacific Airways jetliner with more than 70 persons aboard crashlanded on Tokyo's fog-bound airport tonight and no more than six or seven are reported to have survived.

Japan Broadcasting reporters at the scene said it appeared only six lived through the crash. They said 20 bodies were recovered and another 44 were believed trapped in the wreckage. One of seven persons taken to a hospital died, officials reported.

In Vancouver, a Canadian Pacific Airways spokesman said its reports indicated there were six or seven survivors.

The four-engine Douglas DC-8 carried 62 passengers and nine crewmen, officials here reported. But in Hong Kong, the plane's departure point, Canadian Pacific said its information indicated three were 64 passengers and 10 crewmen.

Debate Gets Down to Viet Nam Money

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Viet Nam debate gets down to dollars and cents issues today, with the administration and its critics clashing over whether Uncle Sam can afford the costs of growing world commitments.

The Senate, with concern not only for the troops in Viet Nam but also for the taxpayers at home, takes up the tax bill President Johnson requested to raise $8 billion to pay the costs of the war.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, still the seething center for the debate, goes behind closed doors to start voting on an emergency $415-million request for foreign-aid funds for Viet Nam and also Laos, Thailand and the Latin American trouble spot, the Dominican Republic.

The committee used the bill as the launching pad for its Viet Nam policy that included a closed session Thursday with Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Despite McNamara's almost legendary skill for mustering facts and figures in an argument, he failed to budge Committee Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

McNamara tried to answer point by point all the questions that had been raised at Fulbright's hearings. He told the senators he didn't believe the fighting would spread into a major land war that would bring Red China into the fighting. He also said that "never before in history has the United States been in a better economic position to fulfill its commitments abroad."

Fulbright, however, found the war is "a great burden on this country, as rich as we are." He said the pinch was even being felt back at the University of Arkansas, where federal funds for a dormitory had been discontinued.

Shaking his head, Fulbright observed: "I can't remember another major war that has grown like Topsy . . . from a few men in a foreign-aid mission to a major war."

The committee is expected to finish turning out the aid bill, already passed by the House, next week so the Senate can act on it after voting on the tax bill.

The tax bill, which ran into some tough opposition in the House before it was passed last week, would reinstate recent reductions in excise taxes on cars and telephone calls, install a graduated withholding tax on personal income, and speed up corporate tax collections.

Eugene Shuster, presiding minister of the Hope Congregation of Jehovah's witnesses, announced today that plans were proceeding smoothly toward making final preparations for the attendance of some 600 ministers expected to attend the semi-annual circuit assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held this weekend at the Fair Park Coliseum.

It was learned that many of the 19 department heads were arriving in Hope today to take up their duties in the various departments necessary to operate the convention smoothly.

"Much work goes into making arrangements for 600 delegates to attend a convention for three days and many volunteers are needed to staff the 19 convention departments," Shuster said.

Name of Any Operation in a War Is Easier to Keep Up With Than Name of Outfit

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — "Operation Buckskin, which terminated recently, accounted for 93 Viet Cong killed, 11 captured," and so on.

That was the account that originated in Saigon. Why was that particular mission of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division in Hau Nghia Province called Operation Buckskin? Why not Operation Rover? or Operation Big Shot?

The operation actually could have been called just about anything. Troops afield on a specific mission carry out their operation under a name that sets it apart from other specific missions.

In high channels, it is simply easier to speak of Operation Buckskin than to say that men of the U.S. 1st Infantry Division are engaging the enemy, capturing him and his arms together with tons of rice, and are suffering light casualties, as was the case in adjoining Hau Nghia Province.

The name of an operation is taken from a master list and is chosen at the planning level at senior headquarters well in advance of the actual kickoff.

The master list is made up of names chosen at random but consists of names that can be transmitted with ease and with a minimum chance of misunderstanding by voice, telephone and radio.

Heavy Strikes Unleashed at the Enemy

By THOMAS A. REEDY

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Air Force, Navy and Marine jets unleashed the Viet Nam war's greatest display of air power in the past 24 hours of attacks against Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam.

"It was our maximum effort," a spokesman said.

With the first good weather in more than a week, American planes flew 55 missions—double the usual number — deep into North Viet Nam. For the first time since the 37-day bombing pause ended Jan. 31, they ranged far north of Hanoi.

Air Force jets pounded bridges, trains and other railroad installations on tracks along the Red River line leading to Red China.

One flight went as far as the Lang Bun railroad bridge 120 miles northwest of Hanoi and about 40 miles from the Chinese frontier, the spokesman said. There was no assessment of damage.

But other Air Force planes, he said, knocked out a bridge 110 miles northeast of Hanoi and another 85 miles from the capital on the same rail line, and cut the tracks and damaged cars 100 miles northwest of the city.

The Air Force flew a total of 30 missions. Navy planes flew 25. A mission usually involves more than one plane. The spokesman declined to reveal the number of individual sorties flown in the North but said they were twice the usual figure.

Psychological Tests Suggested

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Insurance broker Harold Marshall says psychological tests for motorists would help "spot the guy who's going to take it out on his car if he has a fight with his wife."

Marshall appeared at a state commission hearing and said insurance rates could be cut if applicants for drivers' licenses were given such tests.

Young People Are Religious

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Today's generation of young people "is the most religious of modern times," says evangelist Billy Graham.

In an address Monday to the Atlanta Press Club, Graham said that young persons are "making a tremendous impact on the social, economic and political and moral life of America."

The evangelist, who said 60 to 70 per cent of his revival meetings are attended by persons less than 25, said youngsters want a faith to believe in and a purpose for living.

Harassing Calls Not Widespread

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigations by all the armed services have failed to turn up evidence of widespread harassing calls to wives and other dependents of U.S. servicemen in Viet Nam.

The Defense Department said today "it has been found that the incidences of such calls are slight."

Most of these calls have occurred in the 3rd Army area, with a scattering in the New York, Philadelphia, and Ft. Campbell, Ky., areas, the Pentagon said.

The 3rd Army encompasses North Carolina and South Carolina, Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida and Georgia. There is a fairly heavy concentration of military installations in this area, with many wives living near military posts while their husbands are overseas.

"Although it has been reported in speculative places that this is an organized thing," the Pentagon said, "thus far there is no evidence to support this."

The department was asked about the situation after there were reports from Ft. Bragg, N.C., that many wives of servicemen serving overseas are getting obscene or threatening phone calls.

There have been other reports of such harassment of wives of Navy men who served aboard the carrier Kitty Hawk in the Viet Nam area.

The Pentagon said that all the services began investigating the situation after a newspaper story appeared on the calls to wives of Kitty Hawk crewmen.

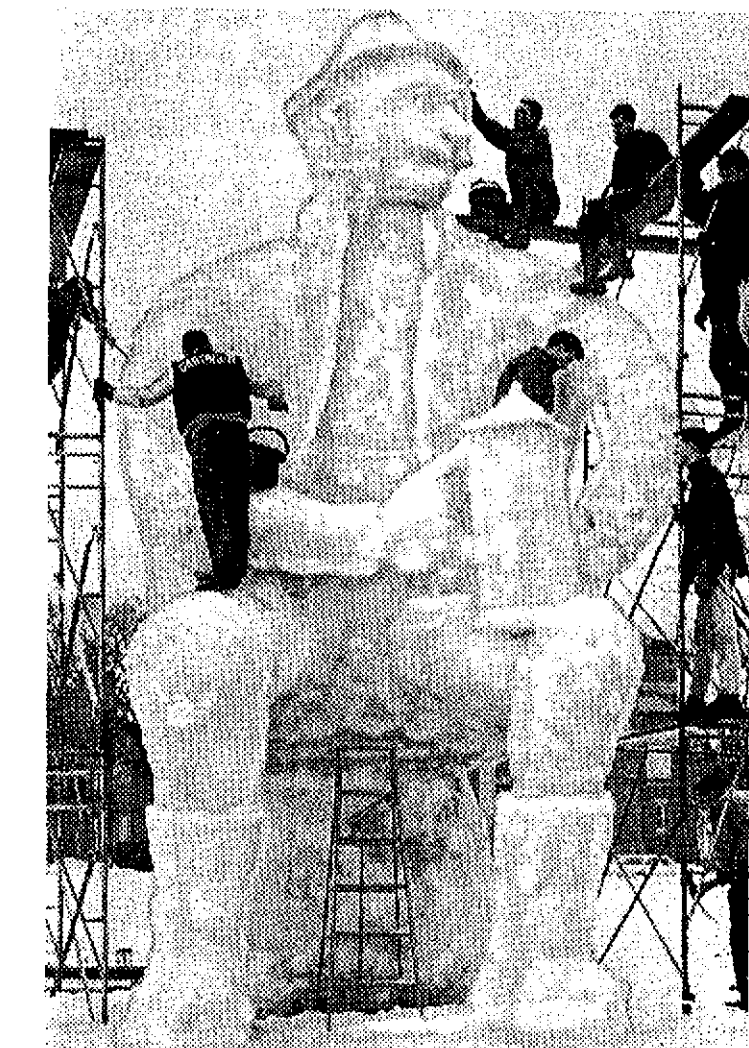

"The most disconcerting type of call has been someone saying that a person in Viet Nam has been killed, wounded, or captured," the Pentagon said.

"The calls primarily fall into the crank category, with the caller unidentified and generally showing no fixed pattern of comments," it added.

Local commanders "have taken necessary action to warn dependents of personnel departing for Viet Nam that this might occur," the Defense Department said.

It took the position that the cases fall into local or national law enforcement jurisdictions outside the military service.

Archbishop Hospitalized

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Roman Catholic Archbishop Joseph T. McCacken is hospitalized with bruises and a possible concussion suffered at the hands of robbers.

Two assailants — finding no money — stripped the archbishop of his keys and Rosary, a gift from Pope John XXIII three years ago in Rome. They left him lying dazed on the street in front of his Pacific Heights home.

The archbishop, 62, said he was returning home Saturday night from his nightly stroll. A heavy overcoat and scarf concealed his clerical collar.

He was admitted to St. Mary's Hospital.
